

One Child's Gift To Children At Christmas

It was just a small toy horse on rollers. Not a very big thing and not very expensive.

But, its value lay not in its price tag. It was one of those cherished toys that most children hold dear.

Tonya Kay Longest liked to ride her horse often and play cowgirl.

But, she gave it away. To Girlstown, USA, in Borger and White Face.

A simple act by a child which embodies the true spirit of Christmas. She gave away other toys, too, and dresses.

"She wants all children to have something at Christmas," said Tonya Kay's mother, Mrs. Cliff Longest, whose husband is a Randall County deputy sheriff. "She realized they were for a little girl who didn't have parents to give her something."

Mrs. Longest told four-year-old Tonya Kay the toys and clothes would be given "little girls who didn't have a mother and father to provide for them like she had."

She willingly gave up her things, but she hesitated at the toy horse on rollers.

"I had the horse sitting there and she sat down beside it and said 'I don't guess I'll ever see you anymore,' and then she got up and walked out of the room," Mrs. Longest said. "She was close to that horse."

Tonya Kay gave her toys as a part of a drive in Canyon by the Jaycees and Woody Pond, juvenile probation officer, to collect food stuffs, toys, clothing and bed clothing for Girlstown.

Mrs. Longest said she and her husband have told Tonya Kay that "Santa Claus brings stuff to boys and girls, but mommies and daddys have to pay for it" and that everything that girls at Girlstown receive "comes from little boys and girls who have mothers and fathers."

"We wanted to impress on her that things weren't free as far as she's concerned," she said. "She should learn to share and give wholeheartedly."

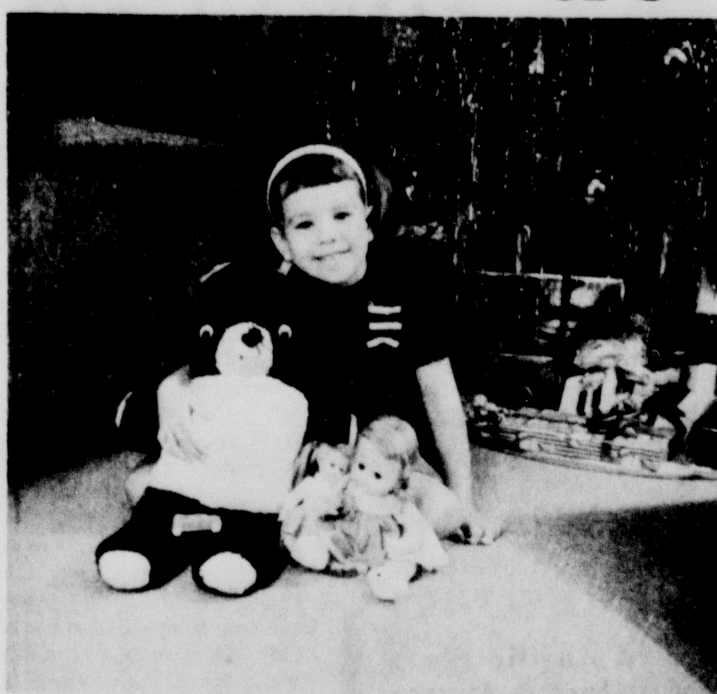

The local drive for Girlstown culminates Saturday, which Canyon Mayor Paul Lindsey has proclaimed Girlstown Day.

From 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., several girls from Girlstown will be in the Cooper's Market parking lot to collect foodstuffs, bed clothing and clothing.

About 6 p.m., the items will be taken to Girlstown. In addition, barrels have been placed in local supermarkets for receiving donated items.

Persons wishing to have items picked up may call Pond, the Canyon Chamber of Commerce office, the offices of Weyman Brown or Ken Stokes.

Pull-Out In War Said Moral Duty By Priest

The morality of the war in Vietnam is untenable and only immediate reversal of the present United States position can be acceptable to the Christian belief, a Catholic priest told about 75 persons Wednesday.

Father Ken Keller of St. Mary's Parish in Amarillo, spoke at noon on the West Texas State University to students and faculty members on "Vietnam and the Christian Conscience." His speech was part of a 1 1/2 day moratorium at WTSU.

Father Keller said remaining in Vietnam is "indefensibly immoral."

He quoted a Biblical phrase which states "love your enemies and do good to those that hurt you and persecute you."

The priest introduced himself by saying that he is neither historian nor political scientist nor a member of the "silent majority."

He implied that he considers himself as well as those throughout the country who oppose the war in Vietnam as patriots.

"To say 'no' is why we're here today," he said. "To say 'no' to the war in Vietnam."

He said the dead, killed in the war, are mute 'no's to the war.

"The dead corpses of the war cannot be silenced," he said. "This moratorium wants the 'no' to be heard even if the President refuses to hear it."

Father Keller said many accuse anti-war dissenters of being emotional about the war.

"When I see pictures in magazines of women and children with amputated legs and killed in Vietnam, I thank God there are emotional people in this world to cry 'no,'" he said.

He said daily and watch the Vietnam butchery on the news...and the collective conscience is not really affected."

He said the American public has been anesthetized to the killing in the war.

"We're at the cross-roads in Vietnam," he said. "President Nixon is beginning to listen to the deafening cry of 'no.'"

But, Father Keller said he questions the President's motive in withdrawing troops from the war, and said the President's withdrawal policy seems to be more an "economy measure" than a true try at ending the war.

The priest said the greatest

Autograph Party Sunday To Honor County History

An autograph party for "The Randall County Story" - Mrs. Clyde Warwick's history of Randall County - will be held from 2 until 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

The party will be held in the Fine Arts Room at the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum.

Mrs. Warwick will be on hand to autograph copies of her book which traces Randall County history from 1541 when Coronado and his conquistadores camped in Palo Duro Canyon to the establishment of West Texas State University in 1910.

The romance of the development of the state's fastest growing county is mapped in vivid detail in the book written by Mrs. Warwick who drew on her vast experiences as a newspaper woman and one who lived a part of the county's fabulous history.

The book contains a complete listing of county and city officials and school boards from the beginning until now.

Mrs. Warwick is a life-long history buff. She is a graduate of Canyon High School and was a member of WTSU's first graduating class.

She was married in 1911 to the late Clyde W. Warwick, pioneer publisher of The Canyon News. Mrs. Warwick was a school teacher and helped her husband publish the paper.

She has lived in Canyon more than 60 years and still is a vibrant and influential voice in the community.

The 86-page diamond jubilee edition of The Canyon News published in 1964 was dedicated to Mrs. Warwick whose efforts helped to shape the county's

Unbeaten Buffs Go On Road To Meet Weber, U. State

The undefeated Buffaloes of West Texas State University will attempt to keep a clean slate against two strong basketball teams as they meet Utah State and Weber State today and Saturday night in their second road trip of the season.

West Texas, who lost its top two scorers from last season in Mike Mitchell and All-American Simmie Hill, tackles the Aggies in Logan today.

Mitchell averaged 17.7 points per game and held an 87.9 free throw percentage in 26 games for the Buffs last season. Hill, who averaged 23.7 points a game, scored 616 points in 26 outings to gain the WTSU single season scoring record. Utah State boasts a tall squad with three of its returning lettermen - Chris Bean, Marvin Roberts and Tim Tollestrup - standing at 6-8. Another returnee, John Erickson, is 6-5. Roberts, scoring leader for the Aggies, averaged 27.6 points per game last season.

The Aggies, who are returning all but one letterman from last year's squad, defeated Utah at Utah Saturday night.

Saturday the Buffs travel to Ogden to take on Weber State, one of the top teams in the area.

The Wildcats, who have participated in the NCAA Regionals the past two seasons, enter this campaign holding a 27-3 record and the Big Sky conference crown from last season.

Willie Sojourner, 6-8 returning letterman for Weber, heads the Wildcat attack. Sojourner averaged 18.8 points per game last season.

Sessions Harlan, another returning letterman for the Wildcats, compiled a 13.4 points per game average last season.

West Texas, which captured two close contests in its first three outings - 73-71 over Hardin-Simmons and 73-72 over Samford - will be led by 6-3 senior guard Dale Blaut, who has collected 71 total points

Review Still Pending

No Union Decision

Stockholders of Canyon Credit Union will have to wait at least a little longer, according to James W. Young, Dallas, assistant managing director of Texas Credit Union League.

"We hope to meet with the bonding company next Wednesday and wind up bad claims," said Young. "After the bad claims are settled the stabilization trustees of the league will discuss purchase of Canyon Credit Union assets."

Young's statement came as a disappointment to credit union stockholders who had been led to believe they might receive their money from the union by Jan. 1.

Bill Schaffner, Amarillo, League representative in this area, last Saturday said the league was meeting in Dallas at that time and was to discuss purchasing the assets of the Canyon union and paying off the stockholders.

"No decision has been made yet," Young said Tuesday, "and one is not likely to be made until January or possibly February. We plan to review the whole Canyon file."

WTSU Commended By Region Chamber

The president of West Texas State University this week received a letter of commendation from the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in reference to WTSU's operation "concerning small groups present on your campus whose only objective is violence, irresponsibility and the total destruction of America."

The letter, from J. Fike Godfrey, president of the WTCC, was to Dr. James P. Cornette.

The letter was apparently also sent to presidents of other Panhandle colleges and universities.

A resolution enclosed with the letter states that the colleges of West Texas have not "allowed themselves to be used by small groups" with the above-mentioned goals.

The resolution commends the colleges for their action in

Amarillo Requests Ok'd By Planning Commission

Panhandle Regional Planning Commission approved for submission to sub-committees eight requests by the city of Amarillo for federal funds and grants totaling $2,399,563.88 Wednesday noon at a regular meeting in Amarillo.

The group also approved admission of Dumas into the PRPC and okayed a budget for the current and coming fiscal year before going into executive session.

Submitted to the police sub-committee were three requests for funds through the State Criminal Justice Council.

The first was a request for $1400 for an administrative survey of the Amarillo Police Department and the second for $25,892 for a proposed community relations program.

Submitted to the same committee was a request for $16,050 for a proposed narcotics education program.

"We need the cooperation of everyone to stamp out the drug traffic," Amarillo City Manager John Stiff told the group. He pointed out that this is a regional problem and that there is a need to educate children before they get to the age group by which most narcotics are used. He also cited the need for educating parents in this field.

The PRPC approved for submission to the water and sewer sub-committees requests by the city of Amarillo to Housing and Urban Development for $891,373 for a water project and for $561,150 for a sewer project.

For parks and recreation the group submitted to the Park and Recreation Sub-committee two requests from Amarillo.

One is to HUD in the amount

Disaster Plan Proves Effective Under Fire

Canyon, like the University of Arkansas, encountered disaster Saturday afternoon.

Canyon's disaster, like that encountered by Arkansas, took team work and a plan.

Unlike the Arkansas disaster, Canyon's was not in the form of the University of Texas. Nor was it a real and terrible thing.

Canyon experienced a surprise simulated tornado, which on paper destroyed the entire west end of town. On paper many died, many more were injured and property damage approached phenomenal sums.

Canyon's disaster was devised by members of the City of Amarillo Civil Defense unit to test Baker One, an emergency disaster plan recently formulated by city department heads and City Manager Howard Northcutt.

At 3:51 p.m. Saturday, right after the Arkansas disaster, Canyon's disaster was called. Acting as if the simulated event were real, the Canyon Police Department mobilized to a man in about 15 minutes. All department heads were notified within two minutes and the emergency operations center (Canyon Fire Department) was manned in less than that.

Before 4 p.m., police units had blocked streets leading to Nebbett Hospital, an action built into Baker One.

Firemen were dispatched to various parts of the city.

While for an hour employees of the city simulated actions

FROM THE CANYON RIM

Local moratorium makers showed two films Wednesday in the Student Union Building in which American leaders were painted as monsters and Ho Chi Minh was held up as the good guy in the present conflict. I don't know how far I could go these days in describing what took place in the SUB Wednesday but I have no doubt that in past war my ancestors (the polite ones) would have described such goings on as disloyal. I have another word for it but my attorney advised me not to use it in print.

The first film centered on a talk by one David Schoenbrun who verbally scoured John Foster Dulles, Dean Rusk, John Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson.

He held up the old, old story that free elections were not held in Vietnam in the middle 1950s as promised at Geneva in 1954. He said Ho would have won such an election hands down if it had been held.

Sure the communists would have won if an election had been held. They've been winning in Russia for 50 years simply because no one else is allowed to run.

I'd like for Mr. Schoenbrun to tell me of one free election ever held in a communist country. Possibly in Czechoslovakia, Castro's Cuba or in East Germany? Ridiculous! The fact is that when Vietnam was partitioned in 1954 more than a million people fled to the south to escape the wrath of Uncle Ho.

The second picture showed oriental prisoners, whom we were led to believe were Viet Cong, being mistreated. This film could have been made anywhere with professional actors.

There was never a word about the 4,300 butchered at Hue. As a former soldier myself I am willing to grant that there may be isolated cases of brutality. This occurs in every war because war is brutal.

But some of those sob sisters who can find more good in Ho Chi Minh than they can find in Eisenhower, Kennedy, Johnson or Nixon, neglect to tell you that this country seeks to punish its soldiers guilty of such acts while brutality is a national policy with communist countries even in peace time.

I cite the Katyn Forest massacre in which the flower of Poland's young officers were murdered at the outset of World War II when Russia's good old Joe made a deal with Adolf Hitler. I cite the massacre of more than a million Ukrainians immediately following World War II, Nikita Khrushchev supervised this bit of blood letting.

The leftwingers who recoil with horror (as all decent people should) at the thought of Hitler's attempt at genocide seem to think it is all right when the communist engage in it.

Let us say this. When we went into Vietnam we had good reason to be there and if we had followed through to a victory in those early days our position would have been justified.

We were there to contain communism in Southeast Asia and this we have accomplished in spite of the terrible losses we have sustained there.

Without our presence, the hammer and sickle might well be flying over Manila by this time and undoubtedly Indonesia would have been lost to the Reds.

Under President Nixon's policy of Vietnamizing the war (letting the South Vietnamese do the fighting) we may have a chance.

If we simply pull out without further ado, it might be well for us all to start learning to count rubles.

Haggards Host Two Occasions

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Haggard were hosts for two events last week.

Thursday evening, the Haggards honored professors of the school of business at West Texas State University with a come-and-go open house at the Haggard home.

Haggard retired last summer from the school of business where he had been in the accounting department for many years.

The table at the open house featured a pink net cloth over rose taffeta centered with a holiday centerpiece of candles nestled in white and pink poinsettias. Serving at the table were Mrs. C. C. Callarman and Mrs. James Davis.

Sunday afternoon from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. the Haggard home was the site for a tea honoring the Accounting Club of the university. The same holiday tea table was used and Mrs. Donald Hooten, wife of the Accounting Club president, presided at the tea service.

Night Of Miracles For Church Choir

Narrated by Gene Murray, the program will feature Chris Munn, Jerry Landrum, Terry Landrum, Buddy Roland and Alicia Boone as soloists.

Turkey Dinner Slated Sunday

The Wesley Foundation of West Texas State University will sponsor a turkey dinner Sunday, December 14, from 12:30 noon to 2 p.m. in the campus center.

Open to the public, the dinner is being prepared by students and tickets may be purchased at the door. Tickets will be $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children.

City Receives State Letter

The City of Canyon received a letter Monday from the State Comptroller of Public Accounts confirming that the recently accepted one per cent sales tax will go into effect April 1, 1970.

The letter acknowledged receipt of various necessary forms from the city following passage of the city tax by Canyon voters.

Evidence indicates that there is a deliberate campaign to discredit the American Military. Surely the perpetrators of these insidious smears have forgotten that our men in uniform are the only physical barrier between us and a Communist firing squad. It may take a grim reminder to refresh their memories.

Prior to the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor, there were conditions similar to the current demonstrations and smears. In El Paso, Texas there were numerous signs on the fronts of various public places saying, "No soldiers or dogs allowed." After Pearl Harbor, those signs came down in a hurry. And that border city was obviously grateful for the proximity of Ft. Bliss with its hosts of soldiers.

It must be conceded, however, that many of the old Army regulars in 1940 were so degenerate that had they left the strict discipline of the Army they would probably have landed in the penitentiary. The influx of war volunteers and draftees did change the complexion of the Military. But no doubt there were then as now many dedicated career men who were first class citizens.

The magazines and newspapers publishing the account of the alleged massacre at My Lai as if it were an established fact, deserve the same fate that befell the Saturday Evening Post after it published that smear on George Wallace. Whether one does or does not admire Wallace is immaterial. No publication has the right to be judge, jury, and executioner of any man.

If every word printed about the alleged atrocities in Vietnam were true, no American should want to publish the stories. Rather, we should all be doing our best to make restitution, and we should be on our knees asking forgiveness of God, Vietnam, and the World.

There are so many obvious loopholes in the stories, only the most naive could accept them as facts. Where are the pictures showing men in American uniforms doing the shooting? And even if there were such pictures, who could discern if the uniforms were stolen?

Our World

en?

The investigation should be left to the proper authorities, and the facts should be made public through the proper channels. Our misinformed public is suffering enough already from mob psychology generated by biased news media.

It is glaringly obvious that every time the two magazines so gleefully publishing the alleged atrocities of our Servicemen, print a story concerning any patriot, they manage to make him look crude, foolish, or stupid. Only the people who are trying to destroy our nation are depicted sympathetically.

It is immoral—contrary to the laws of God and any civilized State—to condemn a man before he is permitted to face his accusers in his own defense (Acts 25:16). Before one accepts the rumors he hears about others, he should believe the ones he hears about himself.

Life and Time have published the rumors about our Servicemen as if they had positive proof of their authenticity. Guilt, like an onion, is composed of many layers. If the accused men actually committed such crimes, who shares the guilt?

The governments that force men to fight frustrating wars they are not permitted to win should assume responsibility for consequences. And all the nations involved who are ignoring the conduct of the war, or are keeping silent while the United Nations calls the shots, which continue the bloody sacrifices of our precious youth, should share the guilt.

However, we should all withhold judgement until the facts have been established. In the meantime, we might show a little appreciation for the unfortunate young men who are sacrificing their lives to preserve ours.

HD Council Tea Held Tuesday

Randall County home demonstration clubwomen were entertained Tuesday afternoon by the HD Council with an annual Christmas tea in fellowship hall of the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Harry Widick, council chairman, presided as the meeting was opened with a series of Christmas carols led by Mary Neal Henry of Happy with Judy Shipman of Happy accompanying at the piano.

Mrs. James Irlbeck, chairman of the recreation committee which was hostess for the affair, introduced the guest speaker, Miss Mary Rando. Miss Rando is a freshman business major at West Texas State University and is noted throughout the area for her patriotic readings and programs.

Tuesday afternoon, Miss Rando opened with a reading "My Town" and then devoted the remainder of the program to a holiday theme following with a reading from the Bible on the story of Christ's birth followed by a solo arrangement of "Away In A Manger". Her program was concluded with the poetic readings of "His Name Is At The Top", "The Night Before Christmas In Texas" and "One Solitary Life". Accompanying Miss Rando at the piano throughout the program was Mrs. Meade Humphries.

Council appreciation gifts were presented by Mrs. Widick to Becky Hall, HD agent; Ruth Lassiter, HD agent's secretary; and Lorena Miller, Canyon News society editor. Mrs. W. A. Brannum in turn presented appreciation gifts to the council officers.

After a concluding series of Christmas songs, Mrs. Velton Sargee conducted the installation of council officers for 1970 using a cascade of candles and the "links of the chain" theme. Installed were Mrs. Harry Widick, council chairman; Mrs. Bill Head, vice president; Mrs. Dick Barrett, treasurer; Mrs. James Irlbeck, secretary; and Mrs. Garland Turner, THDA chairman.

During the program THDA attendance pins were presented by Mrs. Allen Downing to Mrs. Merwin Davis and Mrs. Harry

Love Of Dolls Shows In Woman's Handiwork

Mrs. L. T. Campbell, 609 17th Street, said that she "has always had a love of dolls".

Mrs. Campbell has spent the past two months of spare time remaking, cleaning and dressing about three dozen dolls to be given to underprivileged children at Christmastime.

The project began when her daughter noticed a "plea" in the Amarillo paper for volunteer workers to help on the project sponsored annually by fire stations.

"When I went up there," said Mrs. Campbell, "They had a whole fire station full of dolls and other toys in need of repair. They said take as many as you think you would be able to fix up for Christmas."

Mrs. T. W. Collins spent time recently in Friona visiting with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spring. The Springs had recently returned from a world trip. Mrs. Spring is the former Ethel Ruth Collins of Canyon.

And fixing them up during the past two months has been a lot of fun for Mrs. Campbell as well as work. Neighbors have contributed to the project their scrap materials for clothing and visited and checked on progress of the project throughout the time involved.

MILs Meet This Week

Canyon's two Mother-in-Law Clubs meet this week for holiday socials and gift exchanges.

The Canyon MILs meet at 2:30 p.m. today (Thursday) in the home of Mrs. O. B. Vaughn, 1805 2nd Avenue, for a gift exchange and member program. Special guests will be the Social Pioneer Club members.

Friday, the Palo Duro MILs will meet for a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Nell Sheets. The program, which begins at 3 p.m., will include a gift exchange and favorite Christmas carols.

Mrs. Campbell took each of the dolls and cleaned with a solution of clorox, dish soap and detergents. She scrubbed for many hours on the dolls removing ballpoint pen markings, pencil and crayon scratches and even eyes and faces filled with liquid makeup.

After cleaning each doll, Mrs. Campbell set in to make a new dress, jumper set, blankets, and pillows for each doll. Her neighbors have pitched in with various types of material, lace trims, and other items for the project.

In addition, each doll was completed with a pair of hand crocheted booties finished with an elastic band at the top "for ease in putting on by the little children".

Each doll's outfit is completed with bloomers, or plastic lined pants, or a snap-finished shaped diaper, according to Mrs. Campbell.

For two boy dolls, Mrs. Campbell made romper sets and completed them with miniature stick horses.

She said that she "thoroughly enjoyed the project" and the dolls have now been wiped again with a disinfectant, placed in plastic bags and returned to the fire station where they will be distributed by the Salvation Army to underprivileged children this holiday season.

DOLLS FOR UNDERPRIVILEGED at Christmas have been repaired during the past two months by Mrs. L. T. Campbell.

Miss Schickedanz Weds Hoffman

Miss Kay Lynn Schickedanz of Grand Island, Nebraska, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Van Schickedanz of Kearney, Nebraska, became the bride of Lindell Hoffman of Grand Island, Nebraska, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hoffman of Hastings, Nebraska, Saturday, November 29, at Grace Lutheran Church in Grand Island. Pastor Raymond Theil performed the 3 p.m. double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown, designed and made by her mother, of white tulle with long sleeves, empire waist, and a bell-shaped skirt accented with studded daisies. Her combined veil and train of bridal illusion fell from a crown of daisies. She carried her bouquet on a white ribbon and a white handkerchief which belonged to her great-grandmother.

Miss Lea Ann Schickedanz, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, with Mrs. Larry O'Brien and Mrs. Dick McQuiston, matrons of honor. Miss Debra Hoffman, sister of the groom, was junior bridesmaid and Annette Buesing was flowergirl. The attendants wore identical dresses and headpieces of royal blue crepe. The maid of honor and flowergirl's ensembles were accented with gold. The attendants carried a single white mum with white streamers.

Dick McQuiston served as best man and groomsmen were Burgess Hopper, David Mauchm, and Gary Kliver. Robert Schickedanz, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. Wayne and Dean Schickedanz, brothers of the bride, served as ushers. "The Wedding Prayer" and "O Perfect Love" were sung by Frank Schickedanz, brother of the bride, and Mrs. Kenneth Nienhueser, accompanied by Mrs. Nienhueser at the organ.

For her daughter's wedding, the mother of the bride chose a dress of light blue sequined crepe and black accessories. The mother of the groom chose an aqua ensemble with matching accessories. They wore white corsages.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony. Hosts and hostesses were Rev. and Mrs. Irvin Burlison and Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Weiss. Miss Theronne Burlison attended the gifts and Mrs. James Plambeck the guest book. At the reception table were Mrs. Wayne Schickedanz and Mrs. Dean Schickedanz, sisters-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. David Mauchm.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Grafton Schickedanz of Gage, Oklahoma and Mrs. Martha Hohweiler of Guyton, Oklahoma, grandparents of the bride, and Mrs. Pete Jugert, grandmother of the groom. Also, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rilling of Woodward, Oklahoma, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Johnston of Lincoln, Nebraska and Delbert Hoffman of Red Cloud, Nebraska.

The bride is a graduate of Canyon High School in Canyon, Texas. The bridegroom graduated from Hastings High School, Hastings, Nebraska, the Grand Island School of Business in Grand Island, Nebraska, served three years with the U.S. Army, and is presently employed with Swift and Company in Grand Island.

For their wedding trip to Texas and the southwest, the bride chose a royal blue ensemble with sequin trim and black accessories. Following their wedding trip, the couple will make their home at 318 South Vine in Grand Island, Nebraska.

Board Approves Use Of Grant

The coordinating Board of Texas Colleges and Universities recently approved the use of a $232,500 legislative grant allocated for renovation and repair of the West Texas State University Education Building.

Built in 1928, the Education Building is the second oldest building on campus. Virgil Henson, WTSU financial vice president, said plans are being drawn for remodeling of the building, including repainting, repair of stairways, replacing of outside windows, converting the first floor to suites of offices, replacing the lighting system and installing convactor heaters.

Last year the Old Administration Building was remodeled with money allocated by the legislature. The remodeled Education Building will be ready for occupancy in September, he said.

Another Fire At Dump

Canyon firemen fought a raging blaze in Canyon's dump ground northwest of the city about five hours Monday night before bringing the fire under complete control.

The fire, which began from unknown sources, lit up a large part of the western sky as low hanging clouds reflected the blaze.

Most of the units of the Canyon Fire Department plus a unit from Umbarger fought the fire.

The blaze was the second reported at the dump ground, which according to state law is not to be set afire. More than a week ago a small city-owned building at the grounds was burned.

Over the past weekend, firemen fought a blaze which razed a farmhouse about 3 1/2 miles south of Canyon on a farm owned by Mrs. Carl Heyser. The house was unoccupied.

Four units from the department fought the blaze 2 1/2 hours. Cause of the fire is unknown.

Dr. Sullivan Reviews 1984 For AAUW Meet

Dr. Pat Sullivan reviewed the book "1984" by George Orwell at Saturday's meeting of the Canyon chapter of the American Association of University Women.

About 35 AAUW members were present for the meeting which opened with a covered dish luncheon at the home of Mrs. Clay Cooper. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Ken Baker, Mrs. Dan Trew, Mrs. Gary Zook and Mrs. Cristler Crain.

In his review, Dr. Sullivan noted that the book was published in 1948 and was written the year before. He said that it is "not easy to project trends but that an article in Harper's magazine in 1939 showed that growth in education was complete and future attention would be given to quality—this has since been proved to be wrong" and the "present trends may not hold true either."

Gloominess of the book was attributed to the author's writing it just before his death in 1950. He noted that the book may be read either from a "plot or political angle" and concluded with a discussion of censorship of books today.

Mrs. Duane Guy, chapter president, was in charge of a brief business session as Mrs. James B. Davis gave the legislative report, Mrs. Cecil Winn gave the fellowship report, and Mrs. W. L. Smith reported on community projects.

Gardeners Set Party

Annual Christmas party for the Canyon Garden Club will be held Thursday evening, December 18, at the home of Mrs. W. R. Crow, 1300 8th Avenue.

Nova talks about things those new little cars prefer not to mention. For instance, (1) a cargo-guard luggage compartment; (2) an extra set of fenders inside the fenders; (3) flush and dry rocker panels that help prevent rust and corrosion; (4) a quality built Body by Fisher; (5) Magic-Mirror acrylic lacquer finish; (6) a firm, steady ride programmed by computer-selected springs; (7) six different engines and five transmissions available; (8) an available lighting group that even includes a monitor for your windshield washer fluid; (9) radios you can order, with antennas built right into the windshield and (10) the availability of a new, more compact radio/stereo tape system. America's little cars don't offer them. Nova does. Nova also has a very appealing price. And a lot of loyal friends. Wonder why. Putting you first, keeps us first.

"She came to Canyon as a pioneer with her pioneer family," read the dedication. "She attended West Texas Normal, which was pioneering higher education along the Texas frontier. She was a pioneer school teacher who did not flinch from the task of starting a fire in a pot-bellied school stove in the icy mornings of the High Plains winter."

"She married a pioneer editor and did some writing herself as they thrived together in a new land."

"Her services always are available in a worthy cause. Her quiet voice today carries authority in the councils of her community."

Pioneer Publishers Inc., of Hereford prepared "The Randall County Story" for sale in the area. It is a volume of 400 pages.

All profits from the book's sales will go to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum and to Dreamland Cemetery.

"In the museum is the story of the pioneers' lives and their bodies are in Dreamland Cemetery," Mrs. Warwick said.

The autograph party will be sponsored by the Randall County Historical Survey Committee, Canyon Chamber of Commerce and the Dreamland Cemetery board. Mrs. Doris Martin is the current president of the Historical Survey Committee and Mrs. T. B. McCarter is past president.

Mrs. Warwick is a member of the cemetery board, the historical survey committee, the Chamber of Commerce, the Phoenix Club and ex-students association, the Methodist Church, the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society and the Esther McCrory Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. "I hate to start them at $275," Mrs. Hill said. "Help is hard to find at that price."
"I don't think it's fair to a girl in the tax office to start at $15-$20 less," Beckman said.

Commissioner Bill Butler then said he thought a set procedure for starting salaries had been reached some time ago.

Nevertheless, the commission voted to set starting salaries in all offices at $280.

In other action, the court awarded contract to Xerox Corporation for photo-stat supplies, including paper and chemicals. Other bidders were Browning of Amarillo and Ilex Business Products of Oklahoma City.

Plan....

during the fake disaster, two umpires, both from the civil-defense unit, kept record. One, Bill Butler, stayed in the EOC. The other, Don Goforth, raced about the city watching various city units in action.

In the EOC, manager Northcutt controlled various operations over radio. Frequently he was handed small cards with simulated problems, which he was to solve and react to.

In the field, policemen, firemen and other city workers were also given problem cards to solve. Their actions were recorded.

Baker One was formulated several months ago to allow for coordination and cooperation and calm among the city employees if a disaster were to strike the city.

Each employee's duty and assignment is outlined in Baker One.

Saturday's disaster was to test the plan, to see if it works in the face of confusion.

The umpires said it works. "I don't think you could call it anything but a success," Butler told employees during a critique Tuesday afternoon. "It went amazingly well. Many cities aren't interested enough to have a plan much less to follow through with a test."

Northcutt, too, was impressed with the reaction and speed of the employees in deploying the plan.

"Within two minutes upon issuing the disaster call, we had all key personnel contacted," he said. "That's how fast it went."

Butler noted that even though the plan worked seemingly well during the practice run, there is no way of telling the actual reaction of the employees during a real disaster.

He commended the city, however, for having the foresight to initiate the plan.

Northcutt indicated several more drills may be called unexpectedly before spring.

War....

liberating power in the world is love--"love in the fullest social sense--based in justice, temperance and regard for each other."

He said to speak of a Vietnam victory "is to destroy love."

Father Keller said the preponderance of world opinion--including that of church leaders--is against the war in Vietnam.

"I base my objections on my Christian belief," he said.

Then, after stating several figures on cost in money and manpower of the war, the priest said "after all this nothing has really been decided."

"We have fought in humiliation," he said. "Could withdrawing be any more humiliating?"
Originally, the student-faculty group sponsoring the moratorium had scheduled a panel discussion for the noon hour Wednesday. However, John Greene, one of the students involved, said they were unable to find any student who would speak out as a panelist backing Nixon's policy in Vietnam.

The WTSU moratorium began Tuesday night with the showing of two films: "Vietnam: How Did We Get In? How Can We Get Out?" and "Time of the Locust."

The first film is presentation of a speech outlining the history of the war and possible alternatives for withdrawal.

"Time of the Locust" is a compilation of film shots from several sources. It depicts the torture of prisoners, various bombing sorties and investigation of villages, backed by excerpts from speeches by former President Lyndon Johnson.

About 300 students and faculty members attended the two films Tuesday night and through the morning Wednesday. The films were to continue Wednesday afternoon.

Wednesday night, four speakers were scheduled to talk. They included Peter L. Peterson of WTSU, John F. Matthews of Amarillo College, John Greene, and Buck Ramsey of Amarillo.

Pat Boone was the star of the entertainment night for the convention and entertained along with other musical groups and bands.

While the husbands were attending meetings, Mrs. Byrd, along with other ladies of the area toured parts of Kansas City and spent quite a bit of time shopping.

SYMBOLIC OF THE TRAGEDY OF "Taste of Honey" is this scene presenting Cindy Newman with a basket representing the departure of her love. The play was given Sunday.
